Black Hole Blues and Other Songs from Outer Space Janna Levin, 2016-03-29 The authoritative story of the headline making discovery of gravitational waves by an eminent theoretical astrophysicist and award winning writer From the author of How the Universe Got Its Spots and A Madman Dreams of Turing Machines the epic story of the scientific campaign to record the soundtrack of our universe Black holes are dark That is their essence When black holes collide they will do so unilluminated Yet the black hole collision is an event more powerful than any since the origin of the universe The profusion of energy will emanate as waves in the shape of spacetime gravitational waves No telescope will ever record the event instead the only evidence would be the sound of spacetime ringing In 1916 Einstein predicted the existence of gravitational waves his top priority after he proposed his theory of curved spacetime One century later we are recording the first sounds from space the soundtrack to accompany astronomy's silent movie In Black Hole Blues and Other Songs from Outer Space Janna Levin recounts the fascinating story of the obsessions the aspirations and the trials of the scientists who embarked on an arduous fifty year endeavor to capture these elusive waves An experimental ambition that began as an amusing thought experiment a mad idea became the object of fixation for the original architects Rai Weiss Kip Thorne and Ron Drever Striving to make the ambition a reality the original three gradually accumulated an international team of hundreds As this book was written two massive instruments of remarkably delicate sensitivity were brought to advanced capability As the book draws to a close five decades after the experimental ambition began the team races to intercept a wisp of a sound with two colossal machines hoping to succeed in time for the centenary of Einstein's most radical idea Janna Levin's absorbing account of the surprises disappointments achievements and risks in this unfolding story offers a portrait of modern science that is unlike anything we've seen before

The Music of Space Chris Carberry, 2024-02-22 Since the early days of motion picture production film scores have helped define our emotional and aesthetic perception of stories on screen particularly with space movies and television. The music from The Day the Earth Stood Still (2001), A Space Odyssey, Star Wars, Star Trek, Battlestar Galactica, and others has helped define the public's awareness of space almost as much as the films themselves. In some cases they have redefined the norms of film music. Star Wars not only revived the popularity of orchestral film scores but also helped stimulate an increased public interest in classical orchestral music around the world. This work explores the music and the composers who have helped define the sound of space for over a century, transforming how we perceive space and even inspiring greater interest in space exploration. This book also details how music has been performed and played in space since the early days of the space race.

Trouble Songs Jeff T. Johnson, 2018. Poet, critic, and hybrid genre artist Johnson tracks the use of the word "trouble" in concept and practice in this debut of brief, elliptical lyric essays. He moves through a wide swath of 20th and 21st century music, always alert to a sense of melancholy shared among songwriters, their songs, and their listeners in the ever-growing web of popular music. When we say "trouble," we refer to the history of trouble, whether or not we have it in mind. When we sing "trouble," we sing with history. Johnson writes: "A Trouble Song is a complaint, a grievance, an aside, a come-on, a confession, an admission, a resignation, a plea. It's an invitation to sorrow. The effect of all this trouble is dizzying. Highly annotated, often to personal, humorous, and hidden effects, the book weaves among genres, chronologies, and various forms of trouble to ask: Where are we in song? Who are we in song? Johnson suggests that an answer lies somewhere in the locus of singer, song, and listener, the essential relations in the Trouble Song. Detouring into philosophy, cultural theory, and verse, Johnson works multilaterally to explore what trouble in popular music does to connect listeners, embolden them, and open a space from which trouble can be addressed across time."

Space, 2006. The wide variety of activities in this book extends across many learning areas, particularly science and society and environment. The book covers predominantly factual information about space, compiled in such a way as to develop simple understandings and motivate early learners to extend their learning beyond its contents.

Pindar, Song, and Space Richard Neer, Leslie Kurke, 2019-11-05. A groundbreaking study of the interaction of poetry performance and the built environment in ancient Greece. Winner of the PROSE Award for Best Book in Classics by the Association of American Publishers. In this volume, Richard Neer and Leslie Kurke develop a new, integrated approach to classical Greece: a lyric archaeology that combines literary and art historical analysis with archaeological and epigraphic materials. At the heart of the book is the great poet Pindar of Thebes, best known for his magnificent odes in honor of victors at the Olympic Games and other competitions. Unlike the quintessentially personal genre of modern lyric, these poems were destined for public performance by choruses of dancing men. Neer and Kurke go further to show that they were also site-specific, as the dancers moved through the space of a city or a sanctuary; their song would refer to local monuments and landmarks. Part of Pindar's brief, they argue, was to weave words and bodies into elaborate tapestries of myth and geography and in so doing to re imagine the very fabric of the city state Pindar s poems in short were tools for making sense of space Recent scholarship has tended to isolate poetry art and archaeology But Neer and Kurke show that these distinctions are artificial Poems statues bronzes tombs boundary stones roadways beacons and buildings worked together as a suite of technologies for organizing landscapes cityscapes and territories Studying these technologies in tandem reveals the procedures and criteria by which the Greeks understood relations of nearness and distance here and there and how these ways of inhabiting space were essentially political Rooted in close readings of individual poems buildings and works of art Pindar Song and Space ranges from Athens to Libya Sicily to Rhodes to provide a revelatory new understanding of the world the Greeks built and a new model for studying the ancient world If I Were an Astronaut Eric Braun,2010 Discusses activities astronauts do while they re in space How the Universe Got Its Spots Janna Levin,2023-01-10 Mixing memoir and visionary science a leading astrophysicist s groundbreaking personal account of her life and ideas Is the universe infinite or just really big With this question cosmologist Janna Levin announces the central theme of this book which established her as one of the most direct unorthodox and creative voices in contemporary science As Levin sets out to determine how big really big may be she offers a rare intimate look at the daily life of an innovative physicist complete with jet lag and the tensions between personal relationships and the extreme demands of scientific exploration Nimble explaining geometry topology chaos and string theory Levin shows how the pattern of hot and cold spots left over from the big bang may one day reveal the size of the cosmos The result is a thrilling story of cosmology by one of its leading thinkers In The Space Of A Song Richard Dyer,2013-07-03 Songs take up space and time in films Richard Dyer s In the Space of a Song takes off from this perception arguing that the way songs take up space indicates a great deal about the songs themselves the nature of the feelings they present and who is allowed to present feelings how when and where In the Space of a Song explores this perception through a range of examples from classic MGM musicals to blaxploitation cinema with the career of Lena Horne providing a turning point in the cultural dynamics of the feeling Chapters include The perfection of Meet Me in St Louis A Star Is Born and the construction of authenticity I seem to find the happiness I seek Heterosexuality and dance in the musical The space of happiness in the musical Singing prettily Lena Horne in Hollywood Is Car Wash a musical Music and presence in blaxploitation cinema In the Space of a Song is ideal for both scholars and students of film studies Focus On: 100 Most Popular Billboard Mainstream Top 40 \(Pop Songs\) Number-one Singles Wikipedia contributors, Songs of Contentment and Transgression Tian Yuan Tan,2020-10-26 A discharged official in mid Ming China faced significant changes in his life This book explores three such officials in the sixteenth century Wang Jiushi Kang Hai and Li Kaixian who turned to literary endeavors when forced to retire Instead of the formal writing expected of scholar officials however they chose to engage in the stigmatized genre of qu songs a collective term for drama and sanqu As their efforts reveal a disappointing end to an official career and a physical move away from the center led to their embrace of Balisky,2018-10-19 Tesfaye Gabbiso prominent Ethiopian soloist began composing song texts and tunes as a young lad in the early 1970s during a period of social and political upheaval in Ethiopia This national ferment strengthened a creative surge among a generation of youth as the Ethiopian revolution 1974 91 was taking hold An explosion of indigenous spiritual songs was one result The indigenous song style was in contrast to the imported and translated European hymnody that had earlier been sung in Ethiopia s evangelical churches Because of his testimony both in life and song Tesfaye was imprisoned for seven years during the revolution during which time he continued to compose and sing Thus his songs reflect suffering endurance and hope in
